NOTES IN SEASON.

THE WILLIAM R. JENKINS Co. call attention to their "Clifton-McLaughlin New French Dictionary"—French-English and English-French.

THE AMERICAN BAPTIST PUBLICATION SOCIETY have just ready "Child Study for Sunday-School Teachers," which forms book five in their National Teacher-Training Institute Text-Book Series, edited by Rev. H. T. Musselman. The book is bound in two styles, in boards and in paper.

THOMAS Y. CROWELL & Co. have in their Astor edition of prose and poetry a choice of upwards of four hundred titles, suitable for supplementary reading in schools, selected from the works of standard authors, carefully printed and tastefully bound. In the department of fiction they have 210 volumes; in juvenile literature, 37 volumes; in history and biography, 18 volumes; in essays, 41 volumes; in the department of travel, 15 volumes; in works of reference, 6 volumes, in the department of science, 4 volumes, and in poetry and drama, upwards of 100 volumes.

DANA ESTES & Co. add this year to their Cabinet edition of the British poets fifteen volumes, comprising the poetical works of Thomas Hood, in three volumes; of Percy Bysshe Shelley, in three volumes; of Sir Walter Scott, in three volumes; of Keats, in two volumes; of Robert Burns, in two volumes; and of Thomas Gray and the Great Dramatists, each in one volume. The volumes are attractively illustrated with etchings and photogravures, portraits and scenes from drawings or paintings of celebrated artists. Commentary matter includes appendix to Burns' poems and a memoir to the poet, to which is added Dr. Currie's description of Burns; a memoir to Hood and notes to his poems; a preface and notes to the works of Shelley by Mrs. Shelley, and a memoir by James Russell Lowell. In addition, the works of Keats are edited by W. T. Arnold. To the works of Gray are added a "Life of Rev. J. Mulford," with notes, etc. The "Songs of the Dramatists" is edited by Robert Bell.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS will publish shortly a new book by John Galsworthy, entitled "A Commentary," in which the author takes up the question of how far every man and woman in what are called comfortable circumstances should take upon their shoulders the burden of the poverty, cruelty and injustice of the world; "An Incarnation of the Snow," by F. W. Bain, author of "A Digit of the Moon" and "A Draught of the Blue," in which the author again casts his magic spell and conjures into being scenes of mystic and exotic loveliness, peopled by creatures of a haunting and often a terrible beauty—youths fair as gods, perilous enchantresses that are living flames of love; clinging, fair, and tender maidens with a tropical fervor and abandon that are truly Oriental, and Lamia-like beauties irresistibly and fatally captivating; also "Vital American Problems," by Harry Earl Montgomery, which, as its name implies, deals with problems of the first importance that now demand the most careful attention, and clamor for a solution, such as the Trust Problem, the Freight-rate Problem, Government Ownership, the Labor Problem, and the Negro Problem.

THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY

American Educational List, 1908

This List plans to include all textbooks used in American schools and academic institutions (not in universities, professional or technical schools) and books prepared especially for supplementary reading in primary and grammar schools; also classical and foreign texts, annotated for schools, officially recommended for school use, and such English texts as are required for college entrance examinations, 1906-11. Entries are under authors or editors; classical texts are entered under editor's name, foreign and English texts under author's name with editor's name in parenthesis. For revised subject classification, and for collective reference to classical authors entered under editors, see the second part of this List, following the main alphabet. The List does not include other English texts (except comprehensive school editions of Shakespeare); works of reference for schools (except dictionaries); nor teachers' aids (except teachers' manuals forming part of a textbook series). It is also intended to exclude imported textbooks, except such as are printed with American imprint or sold here in class quantities.

The List omits works out of print or superseded by newer editions, or works obsolete in the sense of being no longer sold in quantities for class introduction, but only in individual copies to schools having the book already in use. For such works see the American Educational List of previous years.

The price given is the "net" or introduction price made by the publisher (with close trade discount only), for which a copy is sent to a teacher or bookseller postpaid. Where an additional mailing charge is made for postage on single copies, an asterisk (*) precedes the price. Books priced at retail, with regular trade discount, are designated by a dagger (†) in the price column. When there is a blank in price column the publisher failed to give information. A double asterisk (**) designates books forthcoming and yet unpriced. New books issued since List of 1907 are designated by a single asterisk before title.

Be particular in ordering to specify edition, and to give the full name of the book as entered in this List.

SUBJECT CLASSIFICATION

For the American Educational List, 1908.

This classification is in seventeen main classes shown by center headings in BLACK FACE CAPS: Art, Business training, Economics and civics, Examinations, Geography, History, Kindergarten, Language, Literature, Mathematics, Music, Mythology, Penmanship, Philosophy, Physical training, Reading and elocution, and Science, divisions of these being shown by black face lower case, and subdivisions by SMALL CAPS. The index below shows under which of the main heads any specific subject may be sought, except that self-evident references, as from French language to Language, are not given.

The names refer to the preceding author list, where prices, publishers, etc., are entered.

Supplementary reading will be found under Reading and elocution (Readers) or as a division under other classes. Where such subdivisions as "complete," "elementary," and "higher" are used, books are placed under them only if so designated by publishers. Otherwise they may be found under the larger division. Series are entered only under "complete."

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

JULY 25, 1908.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter for advertising pages should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers and librarians depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalog," and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

ON SCHOOL BOOKS AND THE STATES.

THERE is no country in the world which has such remarkable school books as the United States, and none in which more is had for the money. American school books command the best talent there is in the writing of them and the best talent there is in their illustration; and they are something of which Americans may well be proud. This has come about through a competition which is as keen and active as it always has been, for the number of school book publishers is probably greater to-day than it has been at any time before.

Some years ago California and other States had a craze for the preparation and manufacture of their own school books. Commissions were appointed to get up school books; but nothing came of it all except in California, where the State actually did start in to have its school books written for it. The foolishness of this soon became evident, and it was found that California would have poorer books than any other State. But the State of California had invested large sums in an enormous printing plant, and it fell back on the scheme of leasing plates from publishers and paying copyright and royalty for their use. The State of California in all probability is paying itself quite as much for its school books as it used to pay to publishers, if not more; and it, of course, leaves out of consideration the losses on its printing plant and other large items of expense.

The craze for State-made school books died out long ago, but now there is a craze of another sort. This has taken shape, particularly in Texas and Oklahoma, in statutes or proceedings, or threatened proceedings, against supposititious trusts in the school booktrade. As a matter of fact, there are absolutely no trusts in the school booktrade. The American Book Company is a book-publishing concern which publishes a large number of lines taken over by purchase from the publishers who published them twenty years or so ago, and kept up to date to meet the demand of the time; but the American Book Company is not a trust in any sense. It is not made up of different corporations; it does not include or control other corporations or publishing firms, except as it may buy out their publications or interest from time to time; and it has none of the other features of a trust. It has half a hundred competitors, each pushing its own line of school books everywhere throughout the country, and the competition, both as to quality and price, is keen and effective.

In Texas there has been outcry and threatened proceedings against other school book houses, competitors with the American Book Company, on the allegation that these belong to a trust, viz., the American Publishers' Association. Now, the American Publishers' Association, as is well known to the book-trade, is simply a consultative organization, which has nothing to do with the fixing of prices, and only makes recommendations on the subject of discounts. School books are specifically excepted even from these recommendations, and have been from the beginning. So that, if the American Publishers' Association were a trust—as it is not—it has no application whatever to school books. The Texas authorities are therefore on a false scent in prosecuting or persecuting these houses because of their connection with the American Publishers' Association. Yet this has been made so much of that some of the educational publishers have felt obliged to offer their resignations from the American Publishers' Association solely because of the mistaken attitude which we have indicated.

The movement is doubtless the result of the popular wrath against trusts, only too well justified in certain cases. There has frequently been complaint on the part of the people that the methods of some school book publishers have been less scrupulous than they should be and that they have "played politics" altogether too much. This was perhaps one of the motives which led to the adoption of the printing scheme by the State of California. But the State of California has jumped "from the frying pan into the fire," and has, in its present scheme, probably a much more fruitful source of political corruption than in the old sources. No publisher is justified in adopting methods which will not bear the light of day, and so far as the present difficulties are the reflex of popular opinion on this subject there is nothing to be said in defence of such methods.

But the fact remains that the States, the public, and the school children are gaining nothing through the scheme now put in operation, very possibly engineered by politicians for their own ends. Most, if not all, of the States which buy under wholesale contracts for the schools throughout the State provide that the price shall be the lowest made elsewhere; and this ensures a safeguard as to price, especially in view of the keenness of the existing competition. When the State bars itself from adopting certain lines of books because of prejudice, whether well or ill-grounded, against their publishers, it does itself and its school children a harm. It simply prevents itself in getting the best books for its children. And this is certainly to be lamented from every point of view.

Those who share the outcry against trusts in the booktrade overlook two very important facts: On the one side, every copyright book is and must be a monopoly, because the copyright is properly vested in the author or in the publisher to whom he sells it. But nobody can prevent another man from writing or publishing another book on the same subject; and so no copyright monopoly or trust arrangement can possibly prevent existing or new publishing houses from publishing rival geographies or histories or readers. In fact, there are at least a hundred competing books in the American field in each of these lines. The result has been to give the best book for the least money, and this American school children have and have had for years. It is important that this should be recognized alike by the booktrade, by educators and by the public in the general interest of education and in the specific interest of each child who is going to school and is entitled to get its education in the best way from the best books.

CONVENTION OF ESPERANTISTS.

THE first national congress of Esperantists ever assembled in America was held at Chautauqua, N. Y., this week. More than 750 delegates gathered for the sessions, which were called to order on July 20, and closed on July 25.

The American Esperanto Congress in this convention extended an invitation to the European congress, which meets next month, to hold the fifth world Esperanto convention at Chautauqua next year. Organization was so perfected that new impetus will be given to the study of Esperanto throughout the country.

Edmond Privat, president of the Esperanto Institution of Geneva, Switzerland, has spent the year making a tour of America in the interests of Esperanto and organized the conference at Chautauqua. In speaking of the purpose of the convention he said:

"It is our desire to accomplish in this country at least what has been done in European countries in placing Esperanto before the people. Already the Massachusetts Institute of Technology has placed Esperanto on the same basis as French and German and Ohio is teaching it in all the high schools."

Mr. Privat was optimistic for the new language on this side of the water, and asserts that in twenty-five years every merchant will print his catalogues in Esperanto as do many European firms to-day.

Messages of greeting were received from the Alaskan Yukon Pacific Exposition and from Dr. H. W. Yemans, of the Philippines.

WOOD ENGRAVING NOT ART.

THE Board of United States General Appraisers in a decision handed down July 15 ordered Miss Helen Hyde, an American artist, to pay duty on five wood engravings made by her and sent to the division of prints in the Library of Congress. General Appraiser Waite decided that the young woman's work was merely "five blocks of wood, and assessed as manufactures of wood." A. J. Parsons, of the division of prints, said the engravings were works of art and entitled to be admitted free of duty, having been made by an American artist while abroad. Miss Hyde was ordered to pay 35 per cent. duty, and Mr. Parsons filed a formal protest against paying the amount.

To show that the wood engravings made by Miss Hyde had artistic merit Mr. Parsons wrote a sketch of Miss Hyde's career for the general appraisers, but the appraisers were not moved. Miss Hyde, he said, was born in California. She studied under Emil Carlsen in San Francisco for four years. Later she studied under well-known workers in New York, Berlin, Paris and Amsterdam.

CONVENTION OF NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF STATIONERS.

THE fourth annual convention of the National Association of Stationers and Manufacturers was held this week in the Hotel Somerset, Boston, Mass. The business sessions began on Monday, July 20, and ended on July 23 with a banquet. The Boston Stationers' Association provided entertainment for the members of the convention on the afternoons and evenings of every day of the week, concluding with a visit to Harvard University and an automobile ride through some of the historic suburbs of Boston. There was a large number present, representing almost every State in the Union. A number of interesting reports and papers were presented.

AN ENGLISH "PUBLISHERS' CIRCLE."

As a result of suggestions made at the last annual meeting of the English Publishers' Association, a number of publishers have clubbed together and formed themselves into a "Publishers' Circle." The main object of the club is to meet once a month over luncheon, and to discuss informally topics of mutual interest. The meetings have already been found useful in promoting social intercourse and understanding among members of the profession.

The officers and other members of the Council of the Publishers' Association, not already members of the Circle, were present at the luncheon held on July 2, at De Keyser's Royal Hotel, as guests of the Circle, namely, Edward Bell, C. J. Longman, William Heinemann, John Murray, Reginald J. Smith, K.C., and Edward Arnold. In addition to these, the following members and their friends were present: Arthur Waugh, (chairman;) Arthur Spurgeon, (vice-chairman;) W. L. Courteney, G. Thompson Hutchinson, J. E. Hodder Williams, John Lane, C. C. Darton, M. S. Skeffington, H. E. Skeffington, A. C. Lockwood, Alfred Pitman, Ernest Pitman, C. W. Whitaker, G. H. Whitaker, Cecil Stoughton, Eveleigh Nash, C. E. Gill, B. W. Willet, F. G. Green, A. G. M. Hesilrige, C. Harrison, Charles Lavell, H. S. Milford, and A. D. Power, (hon. sec.)

Only members of the Publishers' Association are eligible for election to the Publishers' Circle.

JAMMED INTO A BOOKCASE.

CHONE JAFFE, of No. 746 Sixth Street, New York City, lay with his arms and legs pinioned by the sides of a heavy bookcase for twelve hours on Saturday, July 18, in the rear of his store at No. 247 Rivington Street, after having been assaulted and jammed into the case by three Italians upon his refusal to unlock a safe in the store. Jaffe is in a critical condition.

Jaffe is an orthodox Jew and for many years has kept a bookstore in Rivington Street, selling nothing except Jewish literature. He left home on the morning of the 18th inst. to go to a synagogue and on the way passed his store. He saw that a gas light, which he leaves burning in the store every night, was burning, so he unlocked the door to turn out the light. Then, he says, he looked around for a Gentile to turn out the gas for him, preferring not to violate the Sabbath by doing the work himself.

An Italian was passing and Jaffe beckoned to him. He told him what he wanted and they entered the store. They were followed closely by two other Italians. The three suddenly pounced upon him and ordered him to open the safe in the store. He refused, he says, and they knocked him down and kicked him as he lay on the floor. Then they threatened to kill him if he did not open the safe. When he refused they shoved him into the bookcase, where his wife found him.

LONG-LIVED AUTHORS.

THE Paris Figaro taking up the question, Are authors long lived? answers it in the affirmative, and mentions in support of its theory the ages of a dozen members of the French Société des Gens de Lettres. Most of these estimable literary gentlemen have long since passed the three-score and ten limit, and if the truth be told their achievements have more or less passed from the ken of contemporary France.

The oldest author in France, according to the Figaro, is M. François Fertinault, who has just turned ninety-five. M. Felix Nadac comes next, having been born in 1820. Jules Breynat and Ernest Faroudier both date from 1821, and Armand Lafontaine and Frederic Passy from 1822. Four more members are aged eighty-four.

BOOK THIEVES AT LARGE.

LOOK OUT FOR STOLEN ALKEN'S DRAWINGS TO THE "LIFE OF A SPORTSMAN."

To the Editor of The Publishers' Weekly.

SIR: We would like to call the attention of the trade, and particularly of the dealers in old books, to the loss of a volume from our establishment of Alken's original drawings to the "Life of a Sportsman," and to offer, through your columns, a reward of $100 for any definite information leading to its recovery.

The volume is bound in dark blue morocco, tooled on back and sides with fox's head and hunting crop crossed, and lettered on the side "Life of a Sportsman, Henry Alken."

The drawings are mounted to quarto size in thick greenish tinted boards, each drawing lined, and with a border of sepia wash.

The drawing for the title-page varies from the published design, and some of the drawings are unpublished.

If such a volume is offered for sale to any one in the trade we trust they will retain it until we can be communicated with by telegram, or otherwise.

CHARLES E. LAURIAT CO.

BOSTON, MASS., July 21, 1908.

A CHECK SWINDLER.

To the Editor of The Publishers' Weekly.

SIR: A tall, gaunt, countrified-looking man, who operates under the aliases "H. Henken" and "J. L. Harris," has been visiting booksellers and librarians recently in Pennsylvania and getting checks cashed for small amounts, which prove to be forgeries or of no account.

His business is picking up scarce items in book shops and private collections, and selling them to librarians or collectors. When through with the deal the victim is asked to cash a small check, which proves to be a forgery or of no account. I know of two librarians being swindled, one check being a forgery of my name. The knave's knowledge of scarce books and familiar reference to collectors, librarians, antiquarians and booksellers the country over is calculated to deceive, and with his artless manner make him a dangerous man. The address he gives is General Delivery, Chicago. W. C. A.

HARRISBURG, PA., July 20, 1908.

COMMUNICATIONS.

A WANDERING JEW.

To the Editor of The Publishers' Weekly.

SIR: A book entitled "The Russian Jew in the United States," planned and edited by Charles S. Bernheimer, Philadelphia, John C. Winston Co., 1905, is now masquerading under the title of "The Immigrant Jew in America," by Edmund J. James, Oscar R. Flynn, J. R. Paulding, etc., New York, B. F. Buck & Co., 1906. There is nothing in the new book to indicate that it is identical with the old one, except the letterpress, which is printed from the same plates, even the names of the writers of the several chapters being suppressed. Although the second book purports upon its title-page to be by Edmund J. James and others, Mr. James's efforts appear to be confined strictly to the preface, while there is no evidence that some, at least, of the others whose names appear on the title-page had anything whatever to do with it. Whatever may be said of the moral quality of publishers who thus impose upon book buyers, it would seem as though college presidents and professors ought to be above it.

HENRY M. UTLEY, Librarian.
The Public Library, Detroit, Mich., July 18, 1908.

With the express purpose of paying his compliments to his father-in-law, Frank Work, the New York banker and horseman, Auriel Batonyi, according to the New York World, is writing the story of his life. It will be issued in an edition de luxe for private distribution only.

HELEN LEAH REED, whose well-known "Brenda" books for girls have taken a high place in the ranks of juvenile fiction, will augment the list of Little, Brown & Company this fall by a new volume entitled "Irma in Italy." Irma has already been introduced to Miss Reed's readers, and her adventures and experiences abroad are sufficiently novel and exciting to keep the interest constantly stimulated. Miss Reed has been particularly happy in giving the book an Italian atmosphere.

MRS. ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON has sold the house which she built on Lombard Street hill, San Francisco, Cal., overlooking the Golden Gate, and will remove to Santa Barbara, where she has purchased a country home. The house was filled with South Sea curios, and the library contained Stevenson's books as well as many manuscripts of his stories and novels. It was saved during the great fire by members of the Bohemian Club, old friends of Stevenson, who carried water for the purpose in buckets.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

GEORGE HAVEN PUTNAM, of the firm of G. P. Putnam's Sons, contributes an article on "Sidelights on [Washington] Irving's Oklahoma Visit" to The Sturm magazine, published in Oklahoma City. Mr. Putnam gives an interesting account of the relations of his father, George Palmer Putnam, with Irving after his return, in 1848, to this country, when Mr. Putnam undertook a new edition of the works Irving's Philadelphia publishers had abandoned and the publication of his later works.

The Overland Monthly this month celebrates its fortieth anniversary, having been founded in July, 1868, by Anton Roman, the San Francisco publisher and bookseller, and Francis Bret Harte, who was the first editor, assisted by Noah Brooks, then editor of the Alta Californian, and W. A very interesting sketch of the founding of the magazine, by George Wharton James, author of "The Wonders of the Colorado Desert," etc., is printed in the current issue of The Overland Monthly.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

HARPER & BROTHERS have just ready a romance of love and the busy, American life of to-day, entitled "The Land of the Living," by Maude Radford Warren. The romance is born in an old castle in Ireland, but the story begins and ends in Chicago.

FUNK & WAGNALLS COMPANY have in press a novel entitled "The Palace of Danger," by Mabel Wagnalls, which pictures life in the court of Louis xv., its leading character being Madame de Pompadour. George Ward Dunsmore has furnished four illustrations for the book.

MITCHELL KENNERLEY has just brought out a novel by Hubert Wales, entitled "The Old Allegiance," which has to do with the present time, and describes a secret society of Jacobites who meet on one of the islands off the coast of Scotland and vow allegiance to the lineal descendant of the "King Over the Water."

J. H. GOODMAN, general manager and buyer for The Antlers Bookshop in New Orleans, La., is planning to convert the old St. Louis Hotel into a modern auditorium. Mr. Goodman's plan is to have stores on the first floor, while the remainder of the building will be used for an auditorium, with boxes and galleries like a theatre.

THE C. M. CLARK COMPANY, Boston, announce a novel entitled "The King's Mark," by Miss Ella Matthews Bangs, the scene of which is Harrow House, a colonial home on the banks of the Stroudwater. This is said to be the only house in Maine with a name of its own antedating the Revolution, and Miss Bangs describes it as very stately, and inhabited by very elegant squires and dames.

D. APPLETON & Co. have in preparation a volume entitled "Across Europe in a Motor Boat," the narrative of a trip taken by the author, Henry C. Howland, and two friends, who had a motor boat constructed in London for a 7000-mile inland voyage which should circle Europe by way of the Seine, the Rhine, the Danube and the Black Sea. Some fifty sketches are sprinkled through the text.

A RE-ISSUE of Bishop Darlington's well-known "Church Hymnal," with music, has been put upon the market by Thomas Whitaker, Inc. This hymnal is specially adapted to the use of small parishes, and wherever else congregational music is sought to be encouraged. Its cheapness of cost and many other admirable features put it within the easy reach of all, and renders it specially available for the worship of the church.

THE EXCELSIOR PUBLISHING HOUSE, (McKeon & Schofield,) 110 W. Twenty-sixth Street, New York City, call attention to their series of literal translations of Latin and Greek classics, which now includes Cæsar's Gallic War, (eight books;) Cicero's Select Orations, Homer's Iliad, (twelve books;) Horace, complete; Virgil's Æneid, (six books;) and Xenophon's Anabasis, (seven books.) Other volumes are in preparation.

MOFFAT, YARD & Co. have in preparation a book of reminiscences by William Winter, the eminent dramatic critic, entitled "Other Days: being Chronicles and Memories of the Stage." This book will contain numerous photographs, and will contain special chapters devoted to the author's recollections of Joseph Jefferson, Boucicault, Brougham, E. A. Sothorn, Mary Anderson, John McCullough, Charlotte Cushman, Lawrence Barrett, and Adelaide Neilson.

JAMES POTT & Co. will publish in the fall "The City of Genoa," by Robert W. Carden, in which a historical survey of Genoa is given from the pre-Roman days to the Revolution of 1797, with many illustrations, of which twelve are in color, by William Parkinson; "Hyde Park: its History and Romance," by Mrs. Alec Tweedie, author of "Sunny Sicily," etc., with numerous illustrations from contemporary engravings and pictures in photogravure and half-tone; also, "Old England," with over 100 illustrations in color and half-tone by Orrack, the English landscape painter.

LONGMANS, GREEN & Co. have just brought out "The Horace Mann Primer," in their Horace Mann Readers, a new series of basal readers, prepared by Dr. Walter L. Hervey, member of the Board of Examiners of New York City, and Melvin Hix, principal of one of the Long Island City schools. The series is developed upon strictly pedagogical lines with the controlling idea that the material presented should be worth reading from the literary as well as from the ethical point of view, and that it should be in the truest sense interesting and adapted to the capacities and needs of children.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY have just brought out a volume entitled "The Perfect Garden—How to Keep it Beautiful and Fruitful," by Walter P. Wright, editor of Cassell's "Dictionary of Practical Gardening," etc. The volume contains six full-page illustrations in color from specially drawn water-colors, 25 full-page pictures in black and white, and 19 plans of gardens of all kinds. They have also just issued "The Study of Nature," by Samuel P. Schmucker, the seventh volume in Lippincott's Educational Series, a most timely book for teachers, as the "Nature-Study" movement has taken such a hold of the country. It contains four full-page plates in color and 57 line illustrations—all contributions of the wife of the author.

L. KNIGHT, 16 Cortlandt Street, New York City, is handling in this country Howell & Co.'s Edinburgh edition of the greater works of Edward Bulwer, Lord Lytton. The edition is in twelve volumes, and includes the "Last Days of Pompeii," "Last of the Barons," in two volumes; "Harold," "Ernest Maltravers," "Alice," "Rienzi," "Leila, Calderon and Pausanias," "Devereux," "Pelham," "Paul Clifford" and "Eugene Aram." The special features of this edition are 72 illustrations in photogravure reproduced from original drawings by E. F. Sherie, a superfine antique laid paper and clear type. The volumes are attractively bound in cloth, with full gilt back in library style and in three-quarters Persian calf, with raised bands and gilt tops.

HOUGHTON-MIFFLIN Co. announce the following books of interest to the educator: "University Administration," by Charles W. Eliot, the Norman W. Harris lectures for 1908, delivered by the president of Harvard at Northwestern University, Chicago; "The Ideal Teacher," by George H. Palmer, helpful essays on education by one of the leading professors of Harvard University; also, "The Beginnings of Industrial Education," by Professor Paul H. Hanus, an authority in this field who gives in a practical way the results of his recent investigations and experience. They have just brought out Hinchman and Gummere's "Lives of Great English Writers," for use in high schools, and Foster's "Argumentation and Debating," for use in high schools and colleges.

THE success of Bliss Carman's new volume of essays, "The Making of Personality," has stimulated the interest in his earlier prose works, and his publishers, L. C. Page & Company, have just gone to press with new editions of "The Kinship of Nature," "The Friendship of Art" and "The Poetry of Life." Messrs Page & Company will publish this month two new volumes in their Little Cousin Series, namely, "Our Little Egyptian Cousin," by Blanche McManus, and "Our Little Grecian Cousin," by Mary F. Nixon-Roulet. This series has proven a boon to children's librarians, especially in the cities which contain large foreign population, where the children continue to demand books which will give them some information about their cousins in other lands.

THE OUTING PUBLISHING COMPANY have in preparation "The History of the New York Nautical School," compiled and written by Captain B. S. Osbon, "The Sailor of Fortune." This book will contain the reports of each of the school's superintendents, given year by year, covering in all thirty-four years, besides reports of the Chamber of Commerce and special committees that have attended the graduating exercises. A list of nearly 1000 graduates from the schoolship St. Mary's and the autobiographies of a long list of graduates from the St. Mary's is also given. The book will be illustrated with half-tones from photographs made by the boys themselves during their cruises, and covers the entire period of the service of the old sloop-of-war St. Mary's up to the time she ended her career as a schoolship.

HENRY HOLT & Co. announce a book on "The Freshwater Aquarium and its Inhabitants," by Otto Eggeling and Frederick Ehrenberg, both of New York City, who probably know as much as any other two men living about their subject. In addition to this, it is interesting to note that Mr. Eggeling has probably sold more aquariums than any other man in the United States. The text of the book has been commended to the publishers by a high authority on nature study, and the one hundred illustrations are almost entirely from photographs of the living inhabitants of an aquarium. They will also publish shortly an entirely new edition from new plates of Schiller's "Der Neffe als Onkel," an old favorite with teachers of German. The editor of this new edition is Professor F. B. Sturm, of the University of Iowa. The introduction, notes and vocabulary furnish all the aid that the student can legitimately demand.

STANLEY PAUL, known to the American booktrade through his connection with Hutchinson & Co., has begun business as exporter and commission agent on his own account in London. Mr. Paul began his business career with Eyre & Spottiswoode, with whom he gained a knowledge of the printing and binding trades. After some further experience in the stationery and blank book manufacturing lines he entered the publishing business. Having gained a general insight into publishing methods with Methuen & Co., Mr. Paul transferred his services to Hutchinson & Co., with whom, during the last fourteen years, he has gained a comprehensive and practical knowledge of every department. Mr. Paul has made a wide circle of friends at home and abroad. He has represented Hutchinson & Co. in Australasia and South Africa, and has made several special journeys for them to the United States and Canada. We join his colleagues in wishing him a long and prosperous career.

THE BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY will publish at once "On the Spanish Main: a Story of Brave Adventures With Drake," by Herbert Strang, who seems likely to prove the Elisha to the late Mr. Henty's Elijah. Professor Oman, of Oxford vouches for his historical accuracy and Field Marshal Lord Wolseley for his knowledge of the art of war. "On the Spanish Main" is a New World story, the scenes being laid on islands in the Caribbean nearly three hundred and fifty years ago. They announce the publication of "Animal Life of Malaysia," by J. Frank Daniel, of the Department of Zoology, Johns Hopkins University, a complete descriptive zoology for the Philippines, Java, Sumatra, etc., embodying in simple form the latest scientific knowledge. They are making a specialty of books on our Asiatic possession, as witness also its publication of "A History of the Philippines," by Dr. David P. Barrows, Director of Public Instruction in the islands. They also announce a trade edition of the poems of Madison Cawein, in five volumes. Volume I. contains "Lyrics and Old World Idylls;" volume II., "Lyrics and New World Idylls;" volume III., "Nature Poems;" volume IV., "Poems of Mystery;" volume V., "Poems of Meditation." Edmund Gosse supplies the introduction. The edition is illustrated with photogravures after paintings by Eric Pape. In October they will bring out a new novel by H. C. Bailey called "Colonel Greatheart." This story is a romance dating back to the time of Charles I. and Cromwell. It is not historical in the sense that it does not portray the conflict between the Cavaliers and Roundheads, but its delineation of character and customs of that period is intended to be accurate. It is described as being especially rich in witty repartee, and aims to be at once a dramatic and romantic development of a typical story of the Cromwellian epoch. The book will be illustrated by Lester Ralph.

H. M. CALDWELL Co. are preparing for the fall a work on "Benares, the Sacred City," by E. B. Havell, Associate of the Royal Cambrian Academy, and Principal of the Government School of Art at Calcutta. This volume is composed of sketches of that Hindu life and religion of which most of us know just enough to confuse it hopelessly with the Mohammedan life and creed and rather less than might be gleaned from Mr. Kipling. The illustrations include some views of last year's discoveries at Sarnath and a great number showing the daily movement of the busy, crowded, native life. For children they will have this season American editions of Miss Evelyn Sharp's "The Story of the Weathercock" and "The Child's Christmas," both illustrated in color and in black and white by Charles Robinson. In the first the weathercock tells of children whom he has observed; in the second all the doings of Christmas in town and country are described as they appear to the child. By special arrangement with the English publishers they will issue in September "The Century Shakespeare," complete in forty volumes, an authoritative and dainty edition with an exhaustive introduction to each volume by the "doyen of Shakespeare scholars," Dr. F. J. Furnivall. Each volume will include a full and comprehensive glossary and a complete series of notes. An important feature of "The Century Shakespeare" will be an account of Shakespeare's life and work by Dr. Furnivall and John Munro, based upon the results of the latest researches. The books are dainty in appearance and size, measuring only  $4\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$  inches, and being printed from specially selected type, borders and letterings and elaborated title-page printed in two colors, and with decorative end papers. A charming feature of the edition is the photogravure frontispiece to each volume, reproduced from the original paintings of Frank Dicksee, Sir John Millais, R. Westall, George Romney, Sir John Gilbert and others. Two styles of binding have been adopted. Red cloth with decorative lettering in gilt on back, published at 35 cents the volume, and full red lambskin, embellished with gold decoration, gilt top and silk bookmark, at 65 cents the volume.

ISAAC PITMAN SHORTHAND

Holds the World's Record for Speed and Accuracy

EXCLUSIVELY ADOPTED BY THE
EDUCATION

"THERE is always room at the top," is the old and true adage. But in the ladder that leads to attainment the perspective is reversed and the rungs become further apart as the top is reached. The poorly equipped will reach no higher than the level of their attainments, and so it is with shorthand writers and shorthand systems. The writer who chooses a poor system is far from the winner when the race is over.

The adjoining diagram represents the highest net speeds attained by the different systems in the First International Speed Contest,
Baltimore, 1906
Second International Speed Contest,
Boston, 1907
